

Echo Logico's fun and funky gadgets provide logical, inventive solutions to some of life's little problems – without stinting on style. Our products are simple, accessible and affordable; our designs bold and eye-catching. We bring the cool-factor to any home or workplace without forgetting about functionality or practicality. Don't compromise your need to be connected.

RETRO HANDSET

The Echo Logico's Retro Phone is a simple, covetable handset that can plug into any mobile phone, tablet or PC. Fitted with a 3.5mm jack, it's compatible with all devices (though some adaptors may be required). The Retro Phone features a bold, bright retro-cool look with a luxurious soft-touch finishing that brings a splash of colour and sense of fun to any home or office. It is currently available in six eye-catching shades complete with colour-matching coiled cord. The nostalgic look of the Retro Phone plays on a chunky, old-fashioned telephone receiver design, but combines the comfort and convenience of these traditional handsets with modern functionality, including a high-quality speaker and microphone and easy-to-use pick-up and hang-up buttons. Just plug our funky phone handsets into any mobile phone, tablet or PC and start chatting – and since all your other mobile functions can still be accessed, it's as simple as that.

In addition to great design and accessible technology, Echo Logico places the safety of our customers at the forefront. With the World Health Organisation declaring mobile phones as a potential cancer risk, the Retro Phone allows for communication with total peace of mind. Studies have shown that using Echo Logico's Retro Phone cuts out 99% of mobile phone radiation, with many experts recommending the use of exactly this kind of headset to minimise exposure. ## HEALTH ADVICE

ARE MOBILE PHONES BAD FOR YOU?

We've all seen the stories and read the research about the dangers of mobile phone radiation but most of us just want to know – are mobile phones bad for you?

Here's where we could dazzle you with technical talk, or bamboozle you with streams of statistics... but at Echo Logico, we'd rather keep things simple, cut the jargon and tell it like it is.

The World Health Organization said that mobiles phones are a potential cancer risk. The International Agency for Research On Cancer said that radiation from mobiles may cause cancer, due to an increased risk of brain tumours. Interphone, the longest and largest study of mobile phone use to date, reported that participants with the highest level of mobile use showed a 40% higher risk of getting a malignant form of brain tumour.

So save yourself the worry by using our Retro Handset to make your calls instead. Studies have proven that it cuts out 99% of phone radiation, whilst many experts recommend using exactly this kind of handset both to minimise your exposure and lessen your fears.

OUR RETRO HANDSET = THE PERFECT PEACE OF MIND.
